

Nutritionist Conference Contract

This contract represents an agreement between us, C&R Press and you, the presenter in relation to our upcoming conference. Both parties agree to the following terms:

Presenting

The presenter will serve as an independent contractor and will be contracted to present at our Nutritionist Conference event. The presenter will start on time at 12 PM Eastern Standard Time and will not be required to work beyond the previously specified end time of 1 PM Eastern Standard Time and will maintain the same time schedule the following scheduled day. You will share your experience as a Nutritionist and complete a question-and-answer session afterwards for our attendees which include employees and members of the general public by invitation only.

Compensation

We will pay a fee of $3,000 for the entire presentation by business check no later than 5 days after our conference ends. In addition, you will be required to pay the equipment company, Micro Center for necessary conference equipment including a monitor, web camera, headset and a copy of our conferencing software GoToWebinar with the check we are providing you in the amount of $5,000. You will pay $4,900 to them and the remainder will be to pay for any related expenses.

This payment is required in the form of a postal money order only from your local post office due to the fact that Micro Center requires the entity using the equipment to directly pay them. You will not have to pay out of your own pocket.

In witness whereof, the parties have agreed to the terms above and executed this contract on the month, day and year written below:

Contact	Andrew Ibis	Date	November 15, 2021
---------	--------------------	------	-------------------

Presenter	Kelly Dwyer	Date	12.10.21
-----------	-------------	------	----------